

ePACE Virtual Conferences from the Emory Centers for Training and Technical Assistance

Planning a training session or conference on a limited budget?

Bogged down by travel costs and meeting logistics?

ePACE is your solution!

What is ePACE?

A web-facilitated training session that incorporates all of the components and benefits of in-person training. We use the latest in virtual media and social networking to provide a powerful learning and networking experience.

What we do:

The Emory Centers staff specialize in the use of technology for distance learning, and can collaborate with you to customize and deliver an interactive ePACE-style session that will meet the training goals for your group.

Our expert facilitators, trainers, and tech gurus are there at every step of the way from managing conference logistics to convening thought-leaders from your field, providing support to maximize the benefits of this technology, and evaluating the session.

All participants need is a computer, internet connection, and telephone.

Participants will:

- ◆ Register, download session handouts, submit questions, and get familiar with the technology online in advance
- ◆ Be actively engaged throughout the training with video presentations, networking with peers, and interactive features such as chat, Q&A, and polling
- ◆ Practice using their new knowledge through real-time participation in small virtual groups
